EDITOR
MARY JO DUFFY

Any guesses as to the identity of Carrion yet, True Believers? Time's running out, and we won't be rewarding any No-Prizes after the issue in which his sinister secret is revealed hits the stands (only two short months from now!). So wrack your brains and exercise your nimble little writing fingers. You wouldn't want us to surprise you, would ya?

Dear Guys,

PPTSS #22 was excellent! Thank you.

Scott Loffman
17173 Strawberry Drive
Encino, CA 91436

Dear Bill and Mike,

PPTSS #22 was great, especially the intricate plotting. In the last two issues the switch from two-parters to a more open-ended format is really beginning to show. But, on page 11, panel 3, a caption reads: "Betty Brant returned in AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #182" Sorry. She returned in #183. Is it No-Prize time?

Pat Breer
243-03 Thornhill Avenue
Douglaston, NY 11302

Yep—though it was an honest mistake. A fill-in issue (AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #181) was inserted out of continuity to give Marv and Ross a chance to evade the dread Deadline Doom, but that affected Bill's notations in PPTSS #22. Still, your No-Prize (or a reasonable facsimile) is on its way.

Dear Marvel,

I've just finished reading PPTSS #22, and I was really pleased with your work. It was great to see Moon Knight in a Spider-Man book (finally)! But I do have a couple of complaints: What ever happened to the scrawny Peter Parker we used to know and read about? In PPTSS #21 he looked like a white-skinned version of the Hulk! The art, however, was great—in fact, the best I've ever seen on PPTSS. Mike Zeck may not be Steve Ditko, but he's no slouch.

David Minson
3740 S 96th East Avenue
Tulsa, OK 74145

Gee, Dave—we didn't think Mike's rendering of Pete was all that different from John Romita's, Gil Kane's, John Buscema's, Larry Lieber's, Sal Buscema's, Ross Andru's, Jim Mooney's or half a dozen other Marvel artists who've penciled and inked our web-headed hero since the dawn of the Marvel Age of comics. We're not contradicting you, only suggesting that maybe your impression of Pete's physical appearance is more in the mind than on the printed page. . .a tribute, if that's the case, to a Marvel writer's power of suggestion, as it were.

Querido Marvel,

The reason I liked Spider-Man in the very beginning was that Spidey was different, true to-life, his adventures a perfect blend of fantasy, reality and soap opera melodrama. True, PETER PARKER, THE SPECTACULAR SPIDER-MAN was created to focus on Spidey's alter ego, but PPTSS has only been faithful to that concept in the past few months or so under the guidance of Bill Mantlo and the various artists who have worked on the mag. However, if Bill & Co. were to concentrate more on the melodrama, the soap opera-ish elements, they would have lost touch long ago with the essential mixture of fantasy and reality which is also necessary. Let's face it, folks. PPTSS is not "One Life to Live", and all those juicy tidbits about Pete's private life can be told in the AMAZING SPIDER-MAN equally as well. So why all the fuss? I'd rather see super-hero vs. super-villain battles in PPTSS than stories such as "Why Does Flash Thompson Like Sha Shan?" or "The Secret Marriage of Mary Jane Watson and the Original Green Goblin!" or even "Peter Parker Remembers Gwen Stacy!" Those stories have their place, but not, I suggest, in PPTSS.

I also find the White Tiger's appearances in PPTSS refreshing. I feel he makes the book more believable because his character serves as living proof that not all heroes are lily-white. The Tiger is more (much more!) than a boring Kung Fu star (I think Bill intended from the very beginning that he be more than that, too!) in that he represents and symbolizes the hopes and aspirations of one of America's most underrated and down-trodden ethnic groups. . .the Hispanics. Dig, the only time we Hispanics get media coverage is when someone commits a purse-snatching or robs a bank or starts a revolution. Otherwise, we're ignored. Marvel's White Tiger is the only Hispanic in American literature who hasn't been stereotyped. It'd be a sad day for all if Marvel were to limit or cancel his appearances in PPTSS because it would mean that America's promise of a better life for all does not extend to America's Spanish-speaking people. How a fan like Jeffery Lowndes can call the White Tiger boring just proves to me that some people can't overcome their dislikes. Nobody who has followed the White Tiger since his original appearance in DEADLY HANDS OF KUNG FU can find the White Tiger boring. He is the most exciting new hero to emerge since Spider-Man. If only Marvel could overcome its own unconscious prejudices and realize that, it might well have a best-selling book on its hands: THE WHITE TIGER!

So far you're not alone in your admiration for the Tiger, Hector. The mail's been running an easy five to one in favor of keeping Hector Ayala at least as a supporting character in PPTSS, with half of that majority expressing an interest in a book for the Tiger. Who knows what the future holds?

BULLPEN BULLETINS

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Okay, here it is. For once I remembered what I promised to write about last issue! Here's where you get a serious opinion as to the real difference in editorial approach between our competitors and Marvel. There have been more letters asking me to discuss this subject than any other (and I'd hate to find out that they're all from the competish 'cause they wanna know how we do it)!

Basically, it seems to me that we write about people while they write about things. We're concerned with the psychological problems and urges that motivate our characters, while the other company prefers to dwell on what happened, how did it happen, and how do we catch the bad guy? Perhaps another way of saying it is, we write for the older reader, for those who are interested in true-to-life dialogue, in absorbing sub-plots and secondary story lines, and in provocative, imaginative themes to boggle the mind. We like to flavor our yarns with satire, with offbeat philosophical concepts, and with controversial subjects. On the other hand, our competitors' mags are aimed at a younger market, which is the reason their stories are generally simpler and more basic in approach.

Now then, I don't mean to sound smug and self-satisfied. I've been telling you the type of stories we aim for, but I'm not claiming a bullseye each time around. As all true believers know, we've certainly come up with our own share of clinkers, of stories that could have been and should have been better. But when we manage to get our act together, we sure come up with some winners!

And now I'll turn you loose while I start to research next month's column. As previously promised, I'm gonna give you the top-secret lowdown on the monumental mystery behind Honest Irving Forbush! Is he man or myth? Is he talent or turkey? Is he bigger than a breadbox? All this and more shall be fearlessly revealed when we meet again next issue! Till then, remember—audentes fortuna juvat!

Excelsior!

Stan

ITEM! It was one of those days—a desperately-late SPIDER-WOMAN cover was lost, the stat machine was broken, the water pipes were frozen (in August, yet!) and the paychecks were late. In fact, things were so bad that editor ROGER (Stanno) STERN was seen standing on the 6th story window ledge, reading his last will and testament aloud. Just after he had bequeathed away his INCREDIBLE HULK t-shirt to assistant editor Masterful MARK GRUENWALD, the news came that once again, Mighty MARVEL COMICS had captured the lion's share of the prestigious EAGLE AWARDS, British fandom's highest honor. Among the winners were X-MEN, for best team and favorite dramatic series; SAVAGE SWORD OF CONAN, for favorite Black-and-White magazine; HOWARD THE DUCK, for favorite humor series; JOHN CARTER, WARLORD OF MARS, for favorite new series; AVENGERS ANNUAL #7, "The Final Threat", for favorite single-issue story; and (oddly enough) that same story, and its sequel in MARVEL TWO-IN-ONE ANNUAL #2, "Death Watch", for favorite continued story. Also honored were Timorous TERRY AUSTIN, as favorite inker; Thanos, as favorite villain; Pip the Troll, as favorite supporting character; and The Silver Surfer, as character most worthy of his own feature. That delightful news perked up just about everyone around the office, especially Roger Stern, proud editor of both JOHN CARTER and X-MEN. Good ol' Rog stepped down off the window sill and headed for his desk, happy as a clam! Mark was somewhat disappointed, however, at not getting his promised t-shirt, but we'll all chip in and buy him one—if the paychecks ever come!

ITEM! A quick welcome actually, for newly arrived ace colorist CARL (The Gaff) GAFFORD and soon-to-be renowned inker Able AL GORDON! Check out their accomplishments in MARVEL PREMIERE #46, featuring Man-Wolf, and SPIDER-WOMAN #11, featuring the villainy of Brother Grimm, and then give us the verdict—should we keep these guys, or feed them to the alligators?

ITEM! A couple of years back a trio of talented gentlemen named Doug Moench, Paul Gulacy, and Dan Adkins combined their skills to bring the MASTER OF KUNG FU series to a breathtaking pinnacle of achievement in comics art. When, finally, circumstances separated this award-winning team, it seemed that things would never be quite right with Shang-Chi again. For a while, each succeeding issue brought new problems, artist and inker changes, natural disasters, plagues of locusts, and all the accompanying schedule ills which disturb the delicate balance of yin and yang necessary to produce Timeless Masterpieces. Undaunted, however, mighty Marvel pressed on, and, at long last recruited Miraculous MIKE ZECK, penciler, and Brash BRUCE PATTERSON, inker, to join Devil-May-Care DOUG MOENCH, writer, as regulars on MOKF. As each new issue rolls in from these talented and dedicated gentlemen, the feeling grows among those of us at 575 Madison that we are witnessing the evolution of a series destined to rival—nay, surpass the classics of yesteryear. We could try to describe the way Mike's dynamic-yet-subtle penciling is complemented perfectly by Bruce's clean, bold, striking inkline; or how well the sheer lyrical power of the art blends with both Doug's oft-acclaimed scripting and Shang-Chi's unique personality, but we won't. Instead, we simply defy Marveldom Assembled to read issue #73 of MOKF, now on sale, which chronicles Shang-Chi's return to dreaded Mordillo's Island! You'll see!

ITEM! Gigantic Editor-in-Chief JIM SHOOTER answered the phone the other day, and who should be on the line but JOHN BELUSHI, star of stage, screen and NBC's comedy hit, SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE! Ever calm under pressure, Jim smoothly said, "Hey, John, you're fine. How am I?" But Jaunty John understood anyway, and proceeded to congratulate the Marvel crew for our creative efforts on MARVEL TEAM-UP #74, which featured Mr. Belushi and the other wild and crazy members of the Not-Ready-For-Prime-Time Players (shame on you if you missed it!). Later, John stopped by the hallowed halls to meet all the awestruck armadillos, especially Chris Claremont, Bob Hall, Dave Cockrum, and Marie Severin, who crafted the issue in question; and to invite us to the Opening Night party for his new movie, Animal House. It was an honor, a pleasure, and a night to remember for us Bullpenners. By the way, be sure to see the flick, it's the cat's pajamas!

ITEM! So many great things are happening we can't begin to cover them all, but pay attention and we'll try to zip through some of them quickly. First, be sure to catch SPECTACULAR SPIDER-MAN #27 which showcases the penciling of one of the most rapidly rising stars this industry has ever seen, namely FRANK MILLER. Lanky Frank's portrayal of the web-slinger's characteristic spider-like movement as he traverses the rooftops is sure to become a standard for spider-artists. And wait'll you see what he does with a certain Fearless guest-star! After that, check out MS. MARVEL #22 and get in on the ground floor of what promises to be a super series of issues drawn by Meticulous MIKE VOSBURG. And, you'd be well advised to seek out current issues of both THE HULK and CAPTAIN AMERICA, between the pages of which rage the most memorable crossover of recent history. And as if that weren't enough, HOWARD THE DUCK is alive and well, and don't let anyone tell you different. Get down to your newsstand now, and you won't miss out! Okay? Okay!
